BUSINESS BRIEFS

The City of Dublin is surveying the business community to determine Wi-Fi accessibility at each of your business locations. The City is trying to create an informal Wi-Fi coverage map of the commercial areas within the City where residents and patrons can get free Wi-Fi access. If you currently provide Wi-Fi services, or plan to in the near future, please contact Roger Bradley at the City of Dublin at roger.bradley@dublin.ca.gov. Let him know if Wi-Fi is currently available and if there are any restrictions to usage. If Wi-Fi is planned for the near future, please let Roger know about when you expect to provide the service.

Continuing our commitment to help local business owners thrive in our community, the Dublin Chamber of Commerce has formed a Business Referral Group where local business owners can build strong partnerships with other local business owners and grow through the power of referrals. The Networking Referral Group meets twice monthly, the second and fourth Thursday of the month at 8:30 a.m. in the conference room of the Dublin Chamber of Commerce office. Dues are $150.00 annually, due and payable January of each calendar year. The group is limited to one person per profession. For more information contact Jeff Lemmo at 925-866-4562 or e-mail at jlemmo@ft.newyorklife.com.

DUBLIN PRIDE WEEK'S 30TH ANNIVERSARY

Join in celebrating Dublin Pride Week's 30th Anniversary, Saturday, April 26th through Saturday, May 3, 2014. Dublin Pride Week is an annual event that promotes volunteerism and environmental awareness through actions that improve and beautify the City of Dublin.

This year's Pride Week includes Volunteer Day, a free household hazardous waste collection and compost give-away event along with a poster and essay contest for students, a food drive at local grocery stores and a water wise workshop for residents.

The marquee event occurs on Saturday, April 26th where volunteers throughout the community come together to make improvements to schools, parks, assist seniors, and help non-profits with various projects throughout our City. This is a great opportunity to get involved and help make Dublin a better place.

The City is looking for volunteers to make the 30th year a big success. To volunteer or to obtain more information about Pride Week activities, visit www.dublinprideweek.com or call 925-833-6650. Make a difference, Volunteer!
